An Indianapolis Man on the Programme for an Address.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 18.—The fifth annual convention of the National Shorthand Reporters' Association began a session of four days here to-day. The address of welcome was delivered by Benn Pitman with a response by ex-President Kendrick C. Hill, of Trenton, N. J. Reuel Small, of Port land. Me., president of the association, has been detained by the critical illness of his wife. On account of his absence the election was held to-day, resulting as follows: President, Dr. Charles Beale, Boston; vice president, Jerome B. Howard, Cincinnati; Morris E. Jones, Kansas City, and Miss Frances A. Hoover, St. Louis; Secretarytreasurer, Kendrick C. Hill, Trenton, N. J. The association will present to Benn Pitman an elaborate gold medal with illuminated resolutions commemorative of the olden jubilee of phonography in United States. Benn Pitman has lived in Cincinnati fifty years and has devoted his life to phonetic publications. He is brother of Sir Isaac Pitman, inventor of the system. Among those who will address the convention are Edward V. Murphy, of Washington, D. C.; Dr. Rudolph Tombo, of New York; E. L. May, of Montgomery, Ala .: C. C. Beale, of Boston, J. D. POISONED BY ICE CREAM.

Tourists in Colorado Made Sick by Use of Formaldehyde.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Col., Aug. 18 .-More than fifty persons, most of whom are tourists in this city and Manitou, from all parts of the country, have been poisoned by eating ice cream made by local dealers from a consignment of cream received Sunday Denver. Analysis by officers of Colorado Springs reveals the fact that the cream was charged with formaldehyde, better known aware of the threat and Younger got out as embalming fluid, to keep it from souring. No deaths have resulted, although several cases are critical.

The name of the company furnishing the cream has not been made public. Health Officer Hanford, of this city, states that arrests will be made at once. The case promises to be sensational.

AGAINST THE CARNIVAL

LAPORTE MINISTERS AND CHURCH PEOPLE STIRRED TO EXCITEMENT.

Work of Prison Reform Commission-Gas Meters in Muncie Parlors-General Indiana News.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. LAPORTE, Ind., Aug. 18.-The ministers of the city are excited over the announcement that Laporte is to have a street fair and carnival Sept. 7-12. Mayor Darrow made a contract with an amusement company to put in a carnival, the city to receive a certain percentage which would go toward the park fund and for the purpose of erecting a new bandstand. It is estimated be several thousand dollars. Although a number of business men were seen before the contract was signed and they appeared favorable to the undertaking, the people in general knew nothing of the deal until it was practically closed. There was then a howl of disapproval from the church people and objections from merchants, who said the carnival company would take more money out of the town than would be left here by strangers. The claim was also made that the carnival would hurt the county fair and race meeting, which comes the week previous. Undaunted, however, by this opposition Mayor Darrow is going ahead arranging for the eventful week.

It remained for the Rev. Geo. W. Switzer, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, one of the most fashionable in the city, to openly attack the carnival. His text Sunday evening was, "He that is not with me is against me, and he that gathereth not scattereth abroad." The speaker said it was a rebuke to the spirit of liberalism that tried to obliterate all distinctions between the right and the wrong. Men try to be liberal, but have to omit the very deepest truths that Christ gave to the world. It was urged that every life that wished to be with Christ must be against behind. It was stated that every city that has had a street fair knows that with them there is vice inseparably connected. A carnival can promise clean entertainments, years, ever since the streets were paved, but the record has always been that the and it not only affords a worthy old man a promise is not kept. Dissolute characters, good income, but gives eminent satisfaction wide open saloons, gambling of every description in and out of saloons, enticements for young men that will tempt them as they have never been tempted before, vulgarities, laws broken, officials who are perjurers by violating the oaths of their offices -all are left in the wreck. It is easy to see where the profit is. Not to the legitimate business of the city. Not to the elevation of the intellectual or moral or social life. Not to the manhood or womanhood of these. The gambler, the saloon keeper, the sport, the immoral, these profit in their respective lines. It might have been prayed for God to spare Laporte the curse of a carnival. Whatever is not for Christ is against Him. Whatever tends to increase drunkenness, gambling, evil associations, lawlessness, is not with Christ. I have yet to hear of a carnival that had not left a corrupting influence behind. Let the people of Laporte be on their guard and ready to defend the city from corruption and lawlessness." It is possible that the ministers and church people may take some steps in an effort, if possible, to prevent the holding of

It will make a procession of Doctor, who lives north of Anderson about half a mile. There are about fifty vehicles. six miles, and the superintendent of field extension of the Indianapolis Gas Company John Patterson, in which Patterson was worsted, is the talk of the county to-day Patterson was pushing the pipe line to Anderson and his gang of men undertook to cross the little farm of Mrs. Doctor. Her permission has not been granted, and when a wagon drove up to her farm and the men undertook to unload the material she walked up with a big cudgel and said that the first man who trespassed on her property would be felled. In vain the men argued that she would be paid. Patterson, becoming angered at the wo man's position, seized an ax and started to cut down a post. The first stroke of the ax by Patterson brought from Mrs. Doctor blow from her club that felled him. Patterson began again, but again Mrs. Docor met him, this time with her fist, which was planted squarely on the nose. The presence of Mrs. Doctor's husband prevented other men interfering. Mrs. Docor stood her ground for more than an hour and finally compelled Patterson and his workmen to abandon the attempt.

COLE YOUNGER NERVOUS.

Former Highwayman Received Disquieting News at Washington, Ind.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. WASHINGTON, Ind., Aug. 18 .- A wildwest show, under the management of Cole Younger and Frank James, gave an exhibition here to-day that proved a "stand" which the friends of Younger did not relish. It is said that the aggregation of cowboys Indians, etc., had not reached town until t was tipped off to Younger that an attempt would be made to assassinate him and the big fellow was under guard throughout the day, an armed attendant even riding behind him in his trap during the parade. The story that leaked out was that a former victim of the outlaw living in an adjoining county had come to Washington to avenge an old score and it is said the former outlaw remembered the trouble and was very uneasy lest there be an actual encounter. Use of Arm. Heart Trouble.

Could Not Eat, Sleep or Walk.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure Cured Entirely.

"If it hadn't been for Dr. Miles' Remedies I would not be here to write this letter. Two years ago last June I lose the use of my left arm, could not use it and could only move it with the help of my right hand. My heart was so weak I could not sleep nights for smothering spells. I was out of sorts all over and could eat nothing. I grew so weak that I could not walk without staggering like a drunken man and my home doctor said he could do nothing for me. I was in so much pain I was almost wild. I could not take morphine nor opium as they made me worse. So I got to thinking about Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nervine and the more I thought about it the more I wanted to try them. wrote to the Dr. Miles Medical Co. for advice which I followed to the letter. 1 can say today that I am glad I did as I am a well woman now; can work and can walk two or three miles and not mind it. I can also use my arm again as well as ever. You do not know how thankful I am for those grand medicines Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure and Nervine. I think Dr. Miles' Remedies are the best in the world, and if I should get sick again I should take the same course. The remedies also helped my daughter Vida so wonderfully that I should have written you before to thank you, but I wanted to be sure that the cure was permanent, which I now know to be the case."-Mrs. Frank Loomis, Allen, Mich.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. BOSTON, Aug. 18 .- Mr. Louis H. Jones, who, for eighteen years, was so prominently identified with the educational system of Indianapolis, being principal of the normal school for eight years and superintendent of the public schools for ten years, has just been assigned a place of great honor by the Boston Congregationalist. In the last issue of this influential weekly journal his portrait is printed upon its cover page, and he is referred to as one of the most prominent public school workers of this country. After leaving Indianapolis Mr. Jones was superintendent of public schools in Cleveland. O., and one year ago accepted the presidency of the Michigan State Normal College at Ypgilanti. The lastest work of Mr. Jones in educational lines promises to make him more widely known than ever. He has just brought out a series of five school readers, which are published by Gina & Co., Boston. These books are highly praised for the selection of material and their annotation as testifying to the author's good judgment and discrimination.

Answer to Suit Against Executors of the Plant Will.

FIGHT FOR MILLIONS.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 18 .- The executors of the will of Henry Bradley Plant to-day filed in the Probate Court their answer to the application of Charles E. Hoadley and Horace G. Hoadley, of Waterbury, for the removal of the executors. The Hoadleys, who are making a legal fight for recognition as collateral heirs of the Plant estate, which is said to amount to about $20,000,000, allege that the executors were wasting the estate and that the probating of the will was wrongfully removed from the jurisdiction of the Connecticut courts to New York. In their reply the executors, who are Morton F. Plant and Margaret J. Plant, son and widow of the late millionere, and George H. Tilley, of Darien, declare that the applicants have no pecuniary interest in the estate except as annultants under the will and that the application is not brought in good faith. They move that the petition be dismissed. Hearing will be held
